Holding Careless Drivers Responsible for Deadly Crashes

While a personal injury lawsuit will not bring back a loved one or undo the pain caused by a completely preventable accident, it can help secure a measure of justice and much needed financial compensation for the family of the victim. If the driver responsible for the crash was speeding or driving aggressively, was distracted behind the wheel, was intoxicated, or was displaying any number of other negligent behaviors while driving, he or she may be held liable for the suffering and loss caused.

As Smartphone Use Increases, So Do Distracted Driving Accidents

After several decades of declining traffic accidents on U.S. roadways, there was a sudden 14.4 percent surge in traffic-related fatalities over the past two years. Authorities report that there were 100 vehicle deaths every day in 2016 — a painful warning that something is very wrong on the streets and highways in America.

The increase in fatal accidents does not seem to be caused by more speeding or an increase in drinking and driving. Instead, the worsening death rate seems to be a symptom of a growing societal problem: the rise in the use of smartphones while driving.

Learn the three major factors that support the theory that the increase in fatalities can be linked to smartphone use.

The Role of Nurse Case Managers in Workers' Compensation Cases

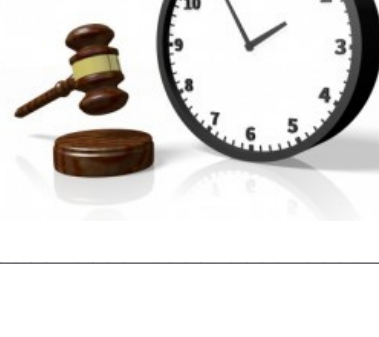

An injured worker going through the workers' compensation process in South Carolina will likely be tasked with attending doctors' appointments, scheduling and attending hospital visits, obtaining necessary medical equipment and prescription medications and participating in physical therapy.

In some cases, the workers' compensation insurance carrier may employ a nurse case manager to assist the injured worker with these tasks. It is important that the injured worker understands his or her rights during the workers' compensation process and the limits of the nurse case manager's role.

What to Expect at a South Carolina SSD Hearing

Recipe of the Month
Broccoli-Cheddar Soup

When following a healthy diet, watch out for high calorie cream soups. Here's a favorite that skips the cream.

Ingredients

- 2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
- 1 onion, chopped
- 2 garlic cloves, chopped
- Kosher salt
- Freshly ground black pepper
- 2 pounds broccoli, thick stems peeled
- 4 cups chicken stock
- 3 cups water
- 8 ounces shredded white cheddar cheese

Directions

- In a medium heavy pot, heat the oil over medium heat, then stir in the onion, garlic, 1 teaspoon of salt and 1/2 teaspoon of pepper. Cook, stirring occasionally, until the onion is translucent, about 5 minutes. Stir in the broccoli, stock and water and simmer, partially covered, until the broccoli is tender, 15 to 20 minutes.
- Puree the soup in batches in a blender and return it to the pot. Stir in 6 ounces of the cheese, then season the soup with salt and pepper to taste. Divide the soup among six soup bowls and top with the remaining cheese.
